getting it together

Orientation Kicks Off The Year

August 21, 22, 23, 24 of 1984 were the four big days this year -orientation. All the usual elements were there such as sharing with old friends that hadn't been seen in three months, boredom, welcomes from teachers and administration, and goals and hopes set for the coming year. Of course, there were the latecomers who didn't quite make it by 8:30. To their advantage, tardies were not issued.

The "getting it together" day was begun with a prayer, led by Jerry Couri. Sr. Marcia and Fr. Beebe were introduced and gave words o inspiration which were badly need ed on one of the last mornings o summer vacation. Mr. Larson an Mrs. Cychol then gave their wel comes followed by a recitation o parts of the student handbook in cluding changes in the dress code detention, and other rules control ling student life for the next nin months. Fr. George Wolf was wel comed to the Spalding community as new chaplain. Finally, the classes were directed in the I.D procedure.

On Orientation . . .

"School vacation is done and the trials and tribulations have begun: heartaches and fears, friends and fiends. It may be hard to start but never fear, school is here."

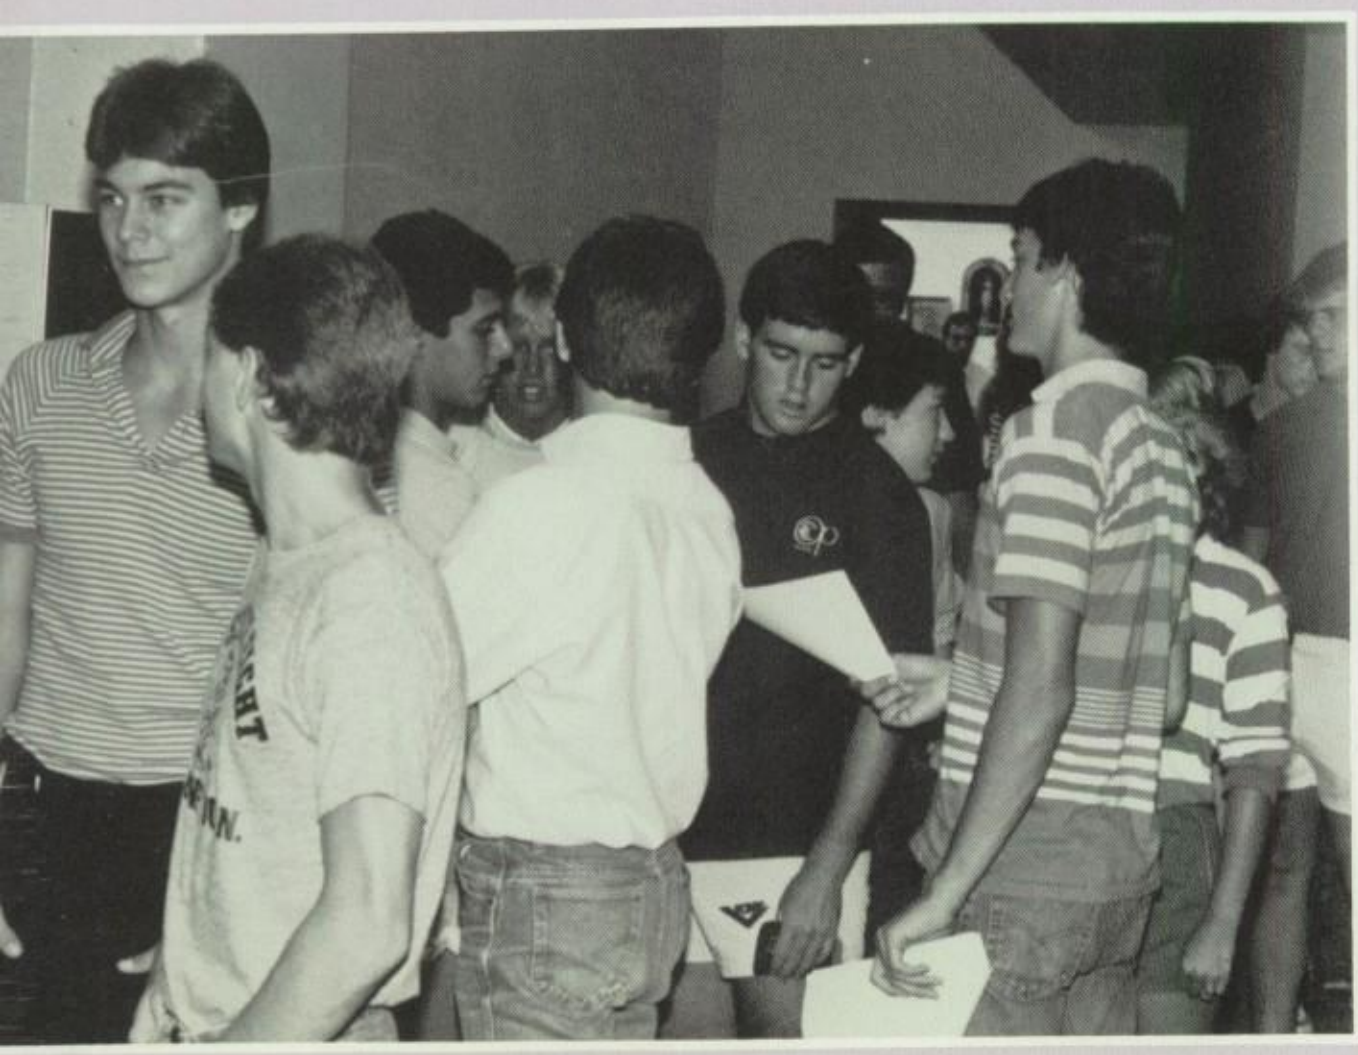
— Joe Buehler

Orientation ended with high expectations for the school year which would begin in a few short days.

Orientation Day is special to each class in a different way. For the Freshmen, of course, it is their first experience at Spalding — their first day of high school. The excitement and fright of this occasion is easily read in their faces. This year the Big Brother/Big Sister program was established for the Freshmen. The activities involved were celebrating mass on the mall, a picnic, and a tour of the school. The program proved to be beneficial and fun for all. A Back to School Dance was held that night.

For Sophomores it is the beginning of their first year of high school not being the "frogs" of the school.

For Juniors, it is their first year as upper classmen with an increasingly heavier load of responsibility. This is the second to last orientation of high school.

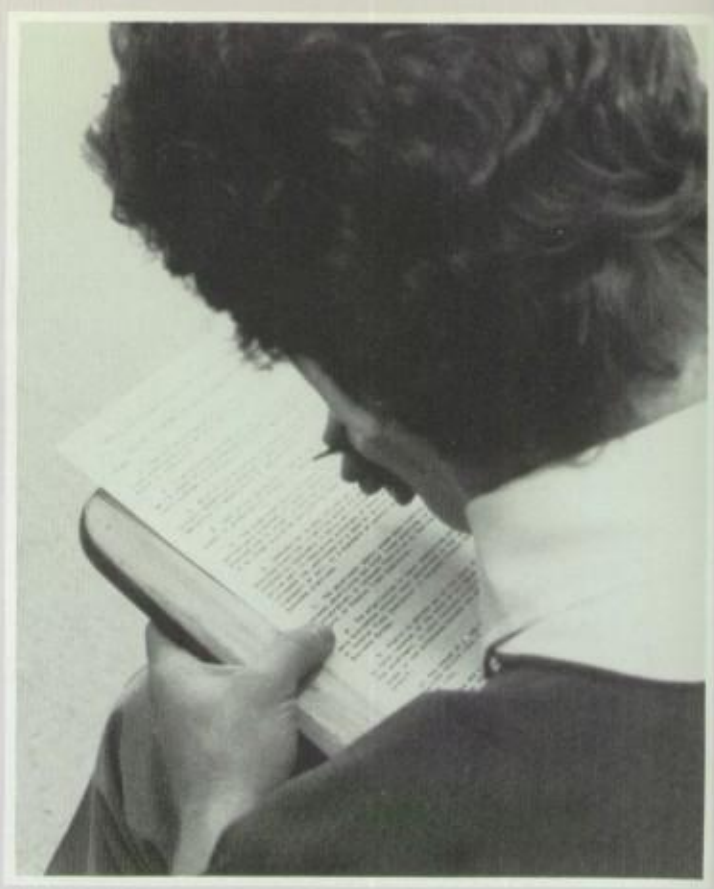


For Seniors this is it! Finally, they are the leaders of the student body. Four years comes to a climax in this one short year. For all the classes, the year is underway!

(clock wise from top) Kelly Chance files through the ever-exciting orientation process. Faculty members have a wild time putting together I.D. cards. A great part of this day is spent standing in line.

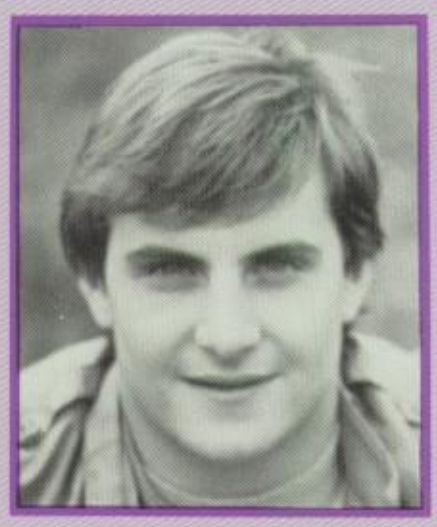
daily grind

Day after day, week after week, month after month the grind goes on. Meetings during center, crossing the mall in all types of weather, locks not working, stair climbing, and wearing uniforms and ties are daily happenings at AOL/SI. Many students are plagued with biology labs and P.E. classes. Other "grinds" students mentioned as part of their academic life were note-taking, homework, quizzes (unannounced), and cramming for that big test. All these have been part of the daily grind since Spalding was just a "one room schoolhouse".



Sometimes It All Seems The Same

(clockwise from top) Being faced with an empty test is seldom a pleasure. Sophomore Noelle Langfels touches up her make-up as a part of her morning routine. Ties can make the "grind" seem almost unbearable, as illustrated by Sophomore Bill Kernan.



On The Grind . . .

"First hour (is the most boring) because I have not woken up yet, and it seems to take forever."

— Jim Rediger

caught in the act

Busted Again

"What's your name?"

"That's a referral."

"There's a new detention list up."

These are probably three of the worst phrases a student can hear, and we hear them every week from both deans and teachers. It doesn't matter what color they are — blue, green, yellow, or pink — they still are not desirable.

A referral can be received for something (usually stupid) such as talking without permission, eating in class, chewing gum, dress code violation, tardiness, or disorderly conduct. Detention is the result of 5 accumulated referrals and with the new rule of Saturday, detentions can ruin a peaceful Saturday slumber.

Detention activities this year include sweeping floors and scrubbing bathrooms. They serve a purpose beyond punishment — They also get work done and a cleaner school.

on the loose

Once You're In, You Only Want To Get Out

When the last school bell rings signaling the end of the school day, students have many ways of spending the remainder of their day. Some race to their lockers, get their books, and rush to catch a bus or ride. Others have an hour to kill and stick around school, messing around or talking to friends about their day. Frequent hangouts after school are the Legion or Continental Regency to get something to eat or drink. The library is also a good place to go to keep warm while waiting for a bus and to get homework started. Of course, there are usually practices and extracurricular activities after 2:20 p.m. including part time jobs. The ultimate destination after being set on the loose is home to catch up on the soaps or sleep. Soon after getting home the phone starts ringing with homework answers and stories from the day. This mini-weekend is savored by all students who love being on the loose!

Loose To Talk . . .

"As soon as I can, I like to talk to friends. You can't do much of that in school."

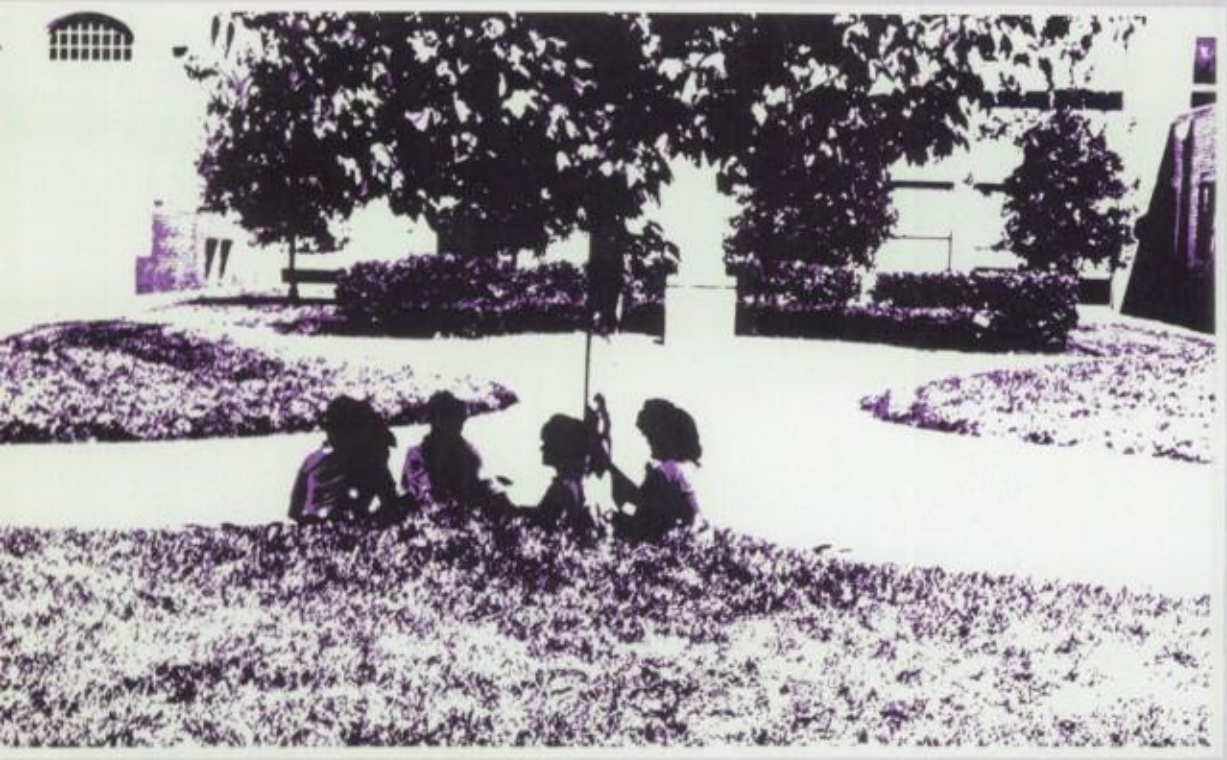
— Steve Schuely

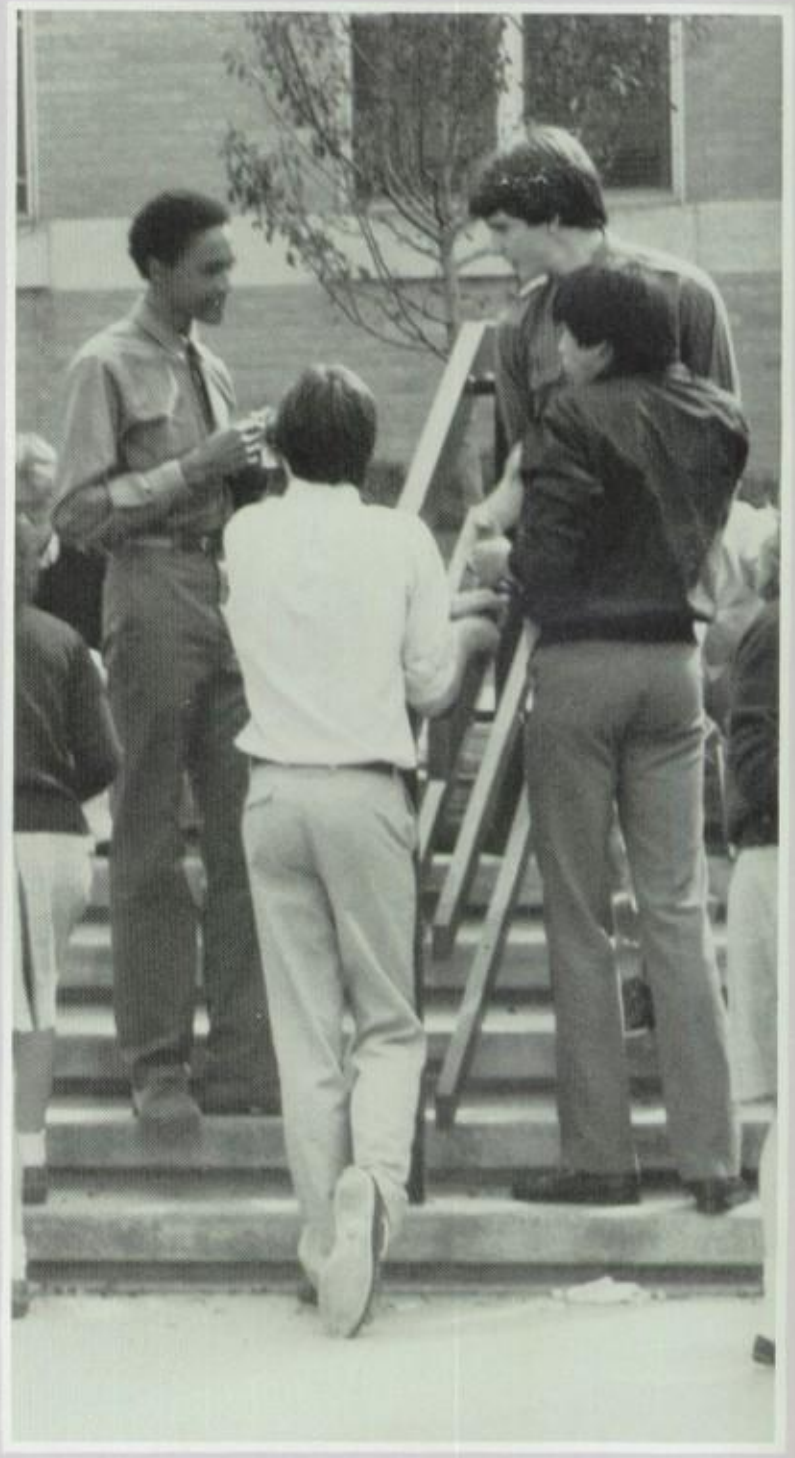
(top) Sophomore Meg Ritschel and Junior Sarah Brick goof off a little before tennis practice. (left) Sophomore Tom Gilfillan leads the pack in the daily escape.

Communication Is The Name Of The Game

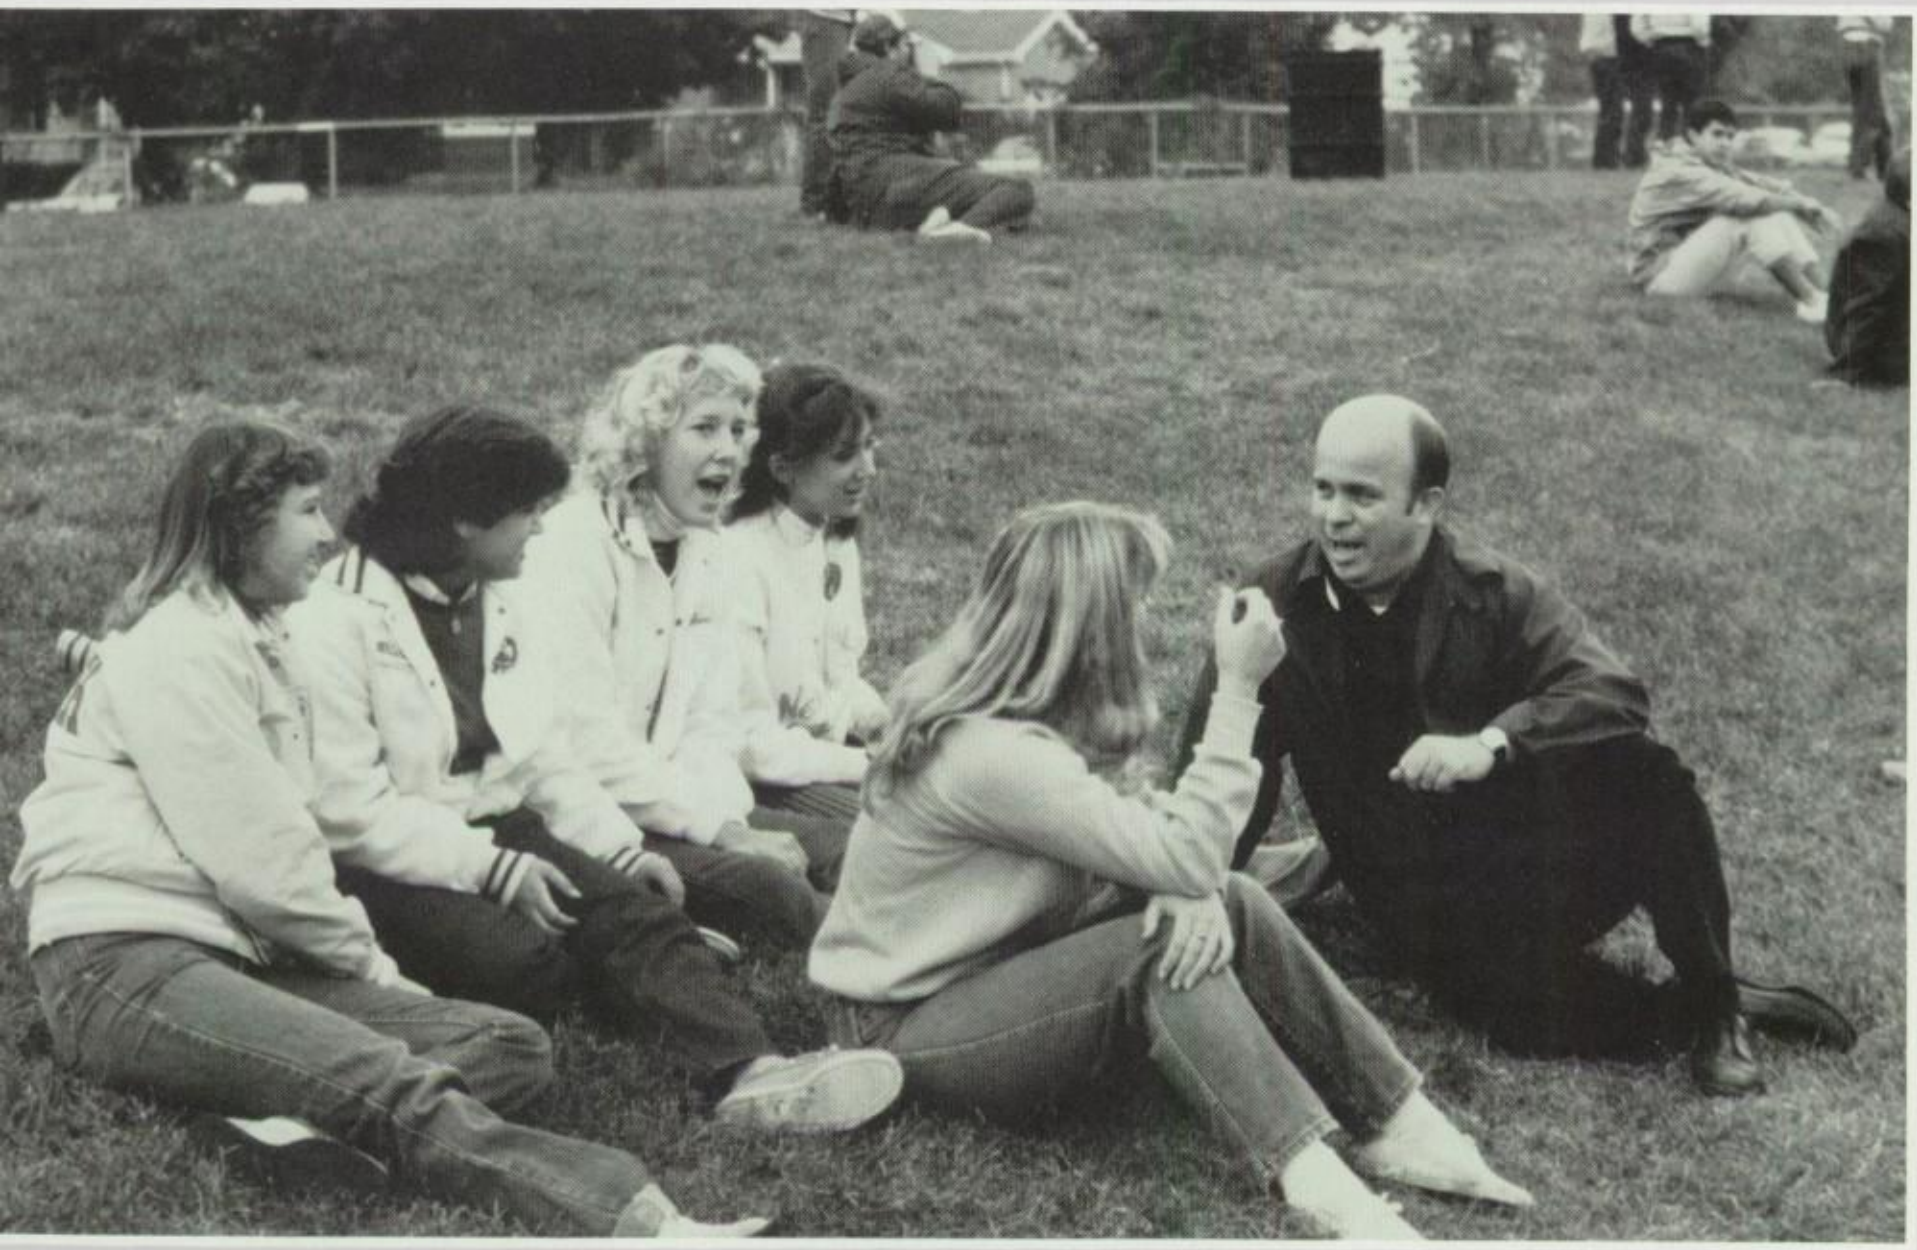
A clique is a group of people brought together by a common interest. There are many different kinds of cliques including the sports teams, cheerleaders, pom pon girls and "brains". All of these have one thing in common — all those people who hang around together have someone to talk to about all kinds of problems and successes. The Spalding spirit forms all of us into one "clique" — that of being the Irish.

As mentioned before, a friend will always be there to hear ideas when ideas need to be expressed or understood. The subjects may vary from dates to parents to weekend plans, but the human need to be a part of a group is always present. Joan Rivers and ourselves have much in common in terms of the need to talk.





(clockwise from top left) A chat on the mall forms a picturesque scene. A group of Sophomore boys use center period for a discussion of sports or after-school plans, perhaps. Senior Carlo Haifa makes a call to arrange his life, in the Spalding hallway.



On talk . . .

"I'm a pretty talkative person when I'm in a good mood. I talk when I'm bored. I like to say hi to people, I see, even strangers."

— Angie Highfill

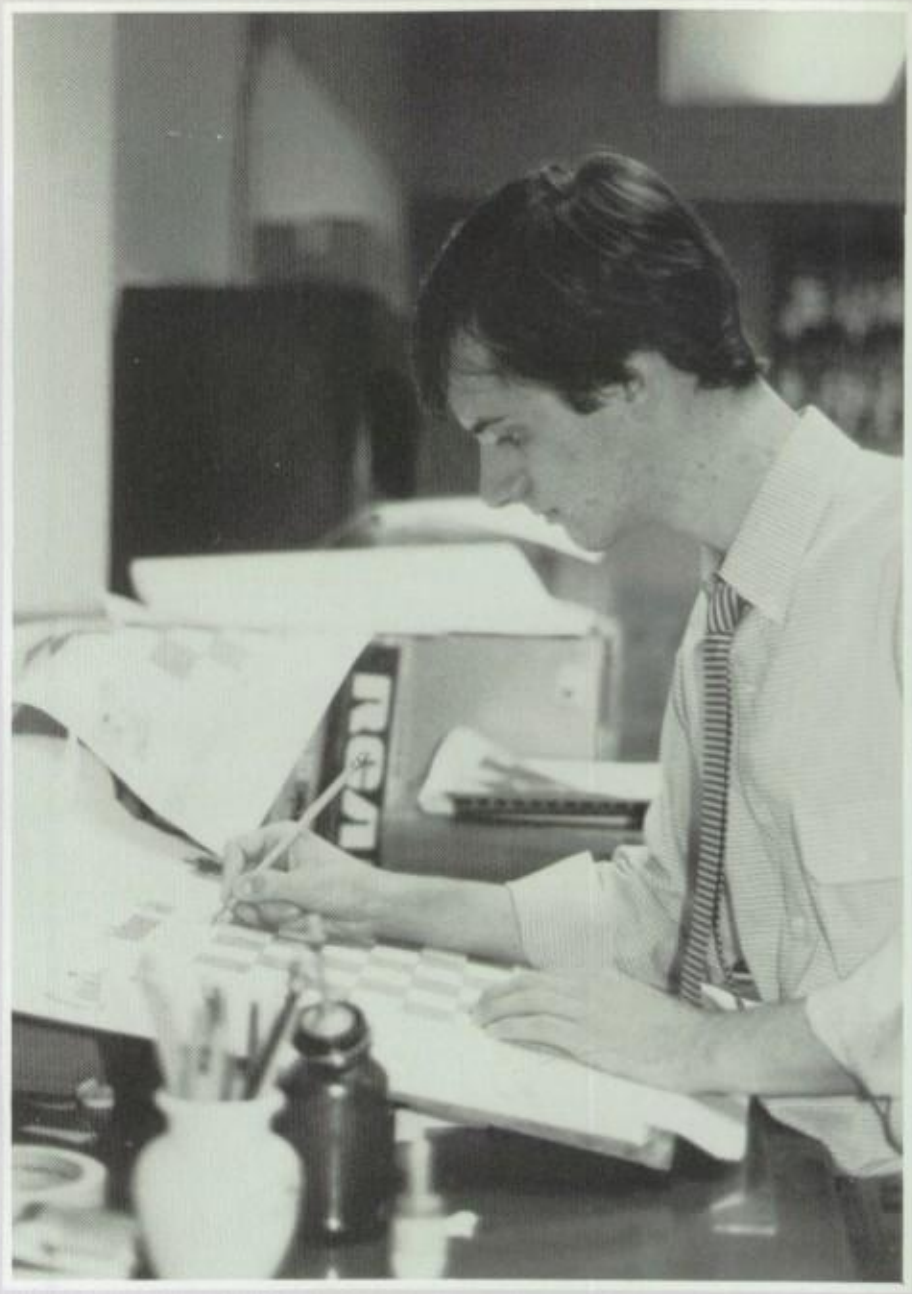
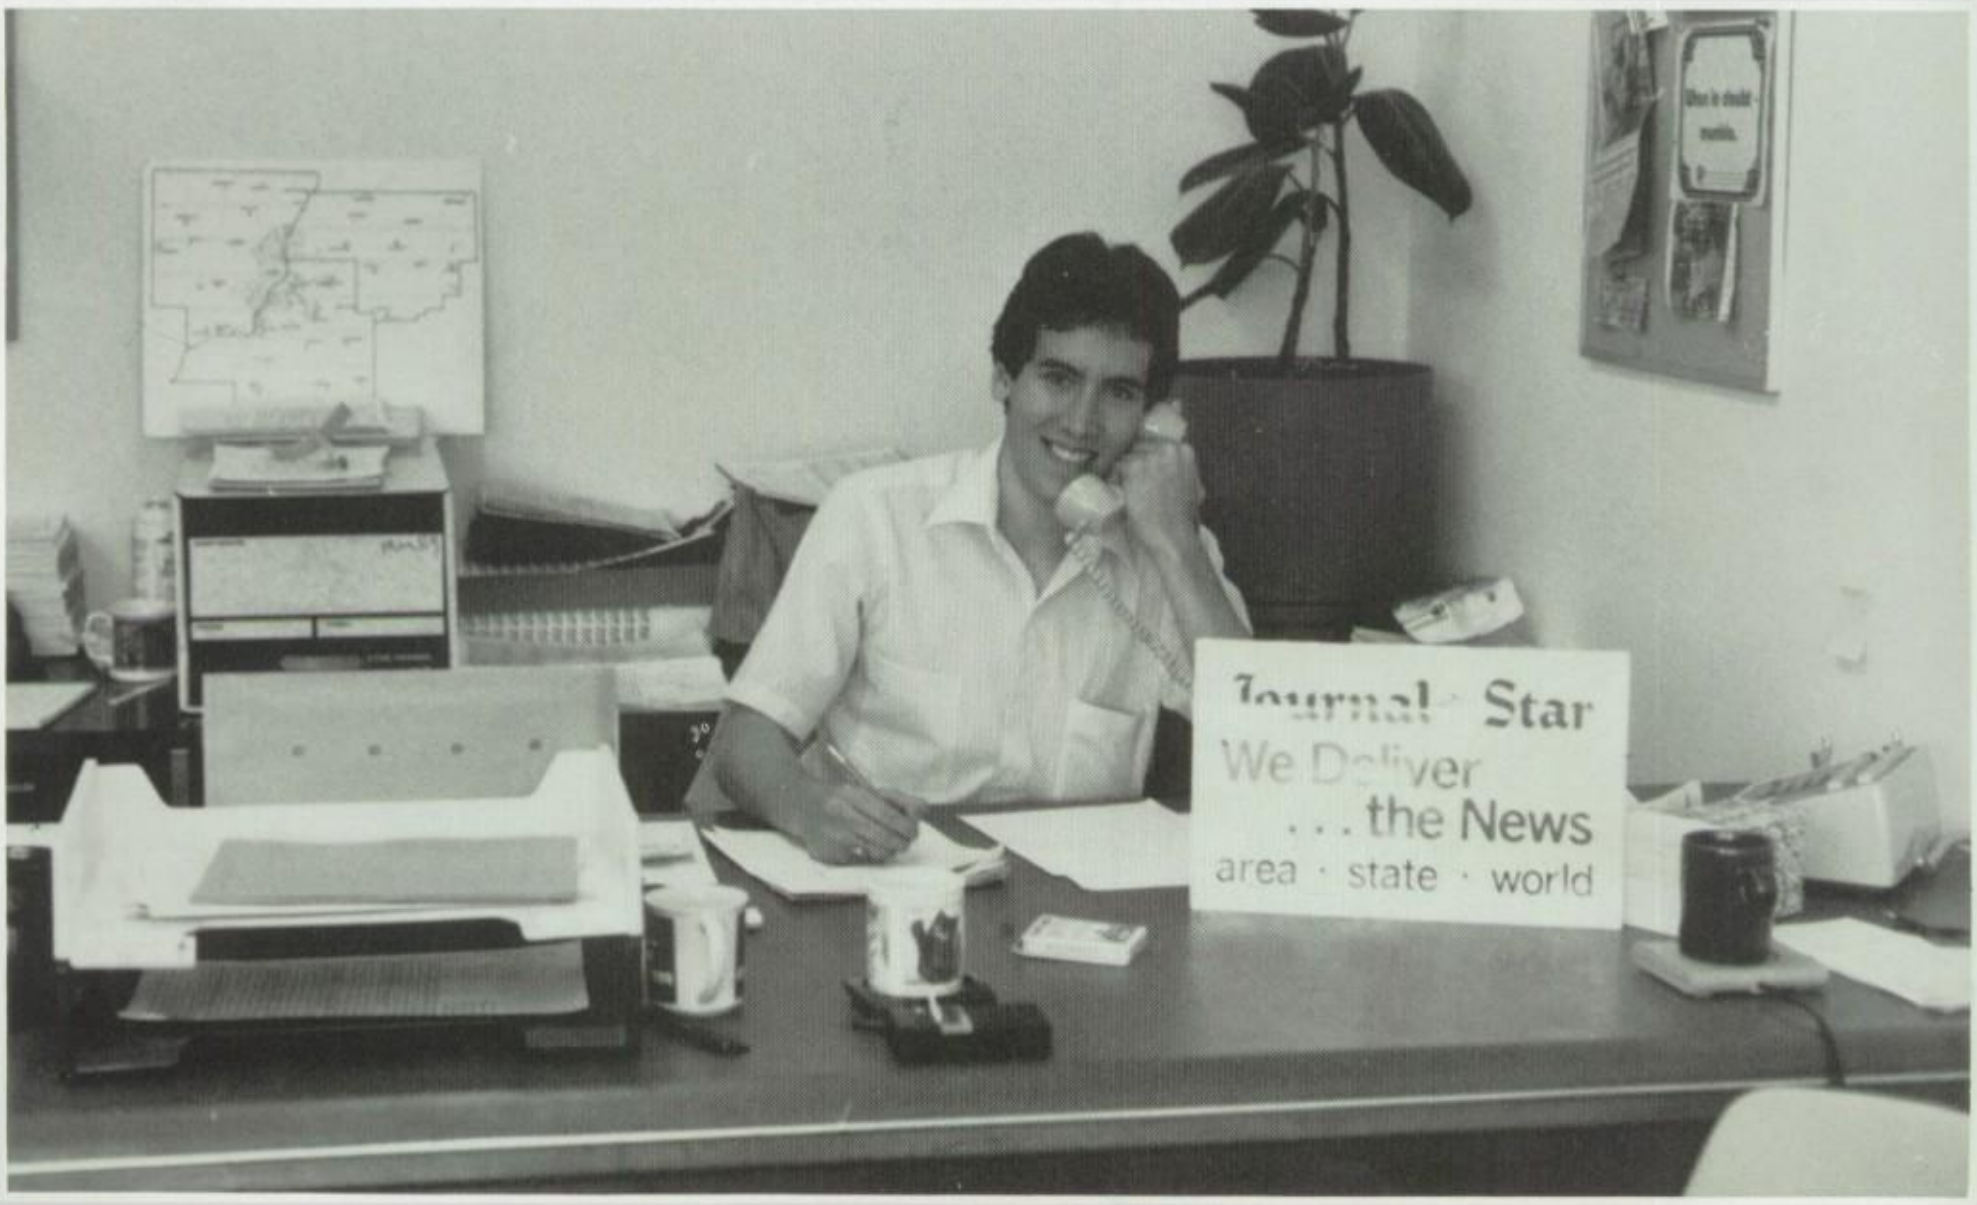
makin' bucks

Students On The Job

Makin' bucks is what most students find it necessary to do. The only way to do this is by getting a job. Students' part time jobs are diverse. At McDonalds turning hamburger patties, at a restaurant waiting on tables, and working at a grocery, clothing, or drug store are just some of the places of employment for Spalding students. The money is spent in as many different ways as the dough is earned. Nobody ever has enough money, so one must make up excuses for spending money.





(top) Senior Ed Vest puts in some time at his job in the ad department at Cohens.

On Working . . .

"My purpose for working is to make money. It is also an easy job; all I do is take food to people who are too lazy to come and get it themselves."

— Tim White

Some of the best excuses for spending that hard earned cash include getting that desperately needed outfit or to buy a new album. Movies and Spalding sport functions require money to be parted with whether it be for admissions or food such as candy, popcorn, or pizza. Homecoming, Vice-Versa and especially Prom cause the pocketbook or wallet to thin just a little, also. In many cases, the thrifty part of us forces the saving of money for high school or college expenses. Wouldn't it be nice to get paid to go to school!

time on my hands

Every Life Has Its Quiet Times

During a busy school year of aggravation, desperation, and confusion there is not much time to just be alone. A student's life is filled with friends and activities that don't leave much time for a very personal life. Although this social and academic aspect is often the larger part of a student's valued and memorable life, no one can deny that they do need time for themselves.

For just a small time, that important test tomorrow, the argument you had with a good friend, the teacher that assigned a term paper you haven't started yet that is due in two weeks or the algebra you don't understand is forgotten. Momentarily you are free from your shortcomings and problems. Everyone has their place to go to be alone — to think and contemplate. This special time is spent reading an exotic noel or listening to a favorite album. However, you must eventually return to the hectic student life, but thank God you had the chance to be yourself. Now, back to the "real world", always knowing that the refuge of yourself will be there.

"My best time to be alone is about 8:30 or 9:00 p.m. I lay on my bed and listen to the radio and read. I relax and wind down."

The Irish had a very successful season this year and improved from week to week. Spalding was picked by a pre-season coaches poll to finish sixth in the conference but surprised their opponents by finishing 7-2 and placing second.

The reason for Spalding's success was stated by Coach Jerry McMahon. "We started off slow this year because we only had a lot of talented individuals. We did well when we seemed to bond and play hard as a team."

Spalding gave up its first game in a tough loss to Limestone. After winning the next three games, the team suffered a great loss when fullback/linebacker, Tony Ardis, broke his leg. Spalding lost to the State Champions Richwood Knights the following week but went on to win their four remaining games.

The Irish's season was highlighted by All-Conference tailback, Bill Kelly, rushing for a school record of 1,135 yards. He also broke a single game record when he ran for 275 yards against Springfield. Joining Kelly on the All-Conference Team were defensive end, Jeff Lawless, linebacker, Brian Pickerill, and tackle, Bill Gebhards. Kevin Coyle, Tony Ardis, Brian Ludolf, and Ben Shea were named to the Second All-Conference Team. Chris Tallon and Mike Davidson received Honorable Mention.

IRISH SOCCER

This year's team was very successful, due to the fact that 9 out of the 11 starters returned. The season was outstanding. The Irish placed second in the conference, losing only to the conference champs, Springfield H.S. Two of the season highlights were the win over Bergan 3-0 and the win over Quincy H.S. 4-2. Another successful year for the Irish.

Volleyball Nets Winning Season: The 1984-85 Varsity Volleyball team had an incredible season. This year's overall record of 18-7 is a total turn-a-round from last year's record of 8-20. The girls won the Spalding Invitational coming from behind in beating Bergan two matches in a row for the double-elimination tournament's trophy. The team was hailed locally as one of the toughest, thanks to tremendous effort from the girls and the fierce determination of Coach Cindy Clark. She cited the team as the most determined she has ever coached. The 1984-85 Irish team has the most wins of any volleyball team in the history of the school.

You may not have heard much about them, but AOL/SI's cross country team did well this season. This year's pack members were seniors Steve Willard and Tim Millar; juniors Jerry Gray and Chuck Donahue; sophomores Bill Kernan, Andy Noreuil, and Marty Gray; and freshmen Bob Carignan, David Gamache, and Tony McEnroe. The female members were sophomore Karen Miller and freshman Ingrid Dowell. The team was coached by Ed Bradle.

With two practices a day before the school year started, and after school practices every day and on some Saturdays, it looks like the team's hard work and many miles have paid off. The team's conference record was 3-3 with important wins over Bergan, Woodruff, and Central. The team placed sixth in the Mid-State 10 Conference Meet and tenth at the IHSA Regional Meet. Looking forward to next year, the team is hopeful that it will be equally rewarding.

IRISH FLOOR THE OPPOSITION

The wrestling team had a very successful season as they finished with 15 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie for the regular season. They won the city championship and the 16 team Delavan Invitational and also placed second in the regional. The varsity team consisted of: Seniors — Emert Emert (23-8), Rich Driggs (25-5) and Jeff Lawless (24-9).

The team set 18 school records and had six sectional qualifiers (R. Driggs, Lawless, Buehler, Davidson, Pascual, & G. Driggs).

The sophomore team finished with an 8-2 record and they were also named city champions. The freshmen finished the season at 5-4. The wrestling program ended the season with over fifty members on the team and are working hard to get ready for next year.

nt and the very tough Centralia iday Tournament. Some of the highlights were beating Woodruff and Bergan and playing a very close game before losing 77-71 to the second-rated team in the state. Two of the season "heart-stoppers" games that the team had were a 57-55 loss to Pekin and a 50-49 victory over Metamora on Senior Night. The 1984-85 basketball season was truly an exciting one for the spirit of Spalding sports. GIRLS BASKETBALL SCORES . . .

he Irish season was one of hard work and etermination. This year the team consisted of very special group of girls. They cooperated ogether, helped each other out, and put up a ong, hard fight, never giving up. They received ourth place out of sixteen teams in the Manual loliday Tournament.

he Irish were led by four seniors: co-captains, im Osmulski, averaging ten points a game, nd Sue Conway, averaging thirteen points, elly Chance, handling the ball at guard, and remendous rebounding by center, Milly Trau. uniors were Shelly Winkler, Jackie Uhll, Stacy IcQuellon, and Dawn Callan, all contributing reatly. Freshman, Monica Cundiff, showed reat support on and off the court.

1985 GIRLS' SOFTBALL TEAM

The girls' softball team finishes a great season with a 20-6 record. The team lost to Limestone in the semi-finals of the Regionals in an exciting 1-0 game. In other tournaments, the Lady Irish placed second at Quincy-Notre Dame and first in the Delavan Tournament. The final MS-10 Conference standings showed Spalding at second. Coach Schallau is looking forward to another good season in 1986 with eight letter winners returning. Seniors that will be missed are Sue Conway, Stephanie Ludolph, Jeri Sawyer, and Greta Selman.

IRISH WIN RICHWOODS REGIONAL

The Spalding Irish baseball team ended a winning season with a very competitive game against LaSalle Peru in the sectional game of the IHSA. The high point of the season was their regional win against Central with a score of 3-1. Central had finished 1st in the conference ahead of Spalding, so the win was a big one.

The leading hitters for the season were Darren Epley at .441 and Tony Ardis at .429. Leading Pitchers were Matt Hopkins who struck out 104 batters and finished with a record of 10-2 and Darren Epley, with a record of 6-2 while striking out 80 batters.

The future looks good for graduating seniors Tony Ardis, Brad Blevins, Darren Epley, Eric Gregory, Matt Hopkins, Knute Landry, Jim Manning and Steve Schepke.

This year's girls Irish swim team was ambitious and set high goals for themselves. These were fulfilled through their devotion and desire for improvement and achievement, and their tenacity in overcoming handicaps.

Freshman diver, Chris Penn, had beautiful form and looks promising for the future. With the combination of the extra practice time, good coaching, and devotion to the sport, every member improved her time in her individual event. The team will miss seniors Becky Harmison, Amy Ford, Jenny Keating, Gayle Fennell and Nichole Orr, but is looking forward to another successful year with the budding talents of the underclassmen.

The swim team enjoyed mixed success this year. Each boy's performance improved through the season, and as a team were very competitive in many of the meets lost. The Irish suffered from a lack of participants and so they didn't have the depth that most of the other teams had.

Led by five seniors and one outstanding junior and freshman the team continued the Irish tradition of competitive spirit which has led up to victorious seasons in the past. The team was proud of their accomplishments against very stiff competitions.

Senior Jim Slusser finished the season with a school record in the 100 yd. breaststroke and qualified for the state meet. Jim also broke the school record in the 200 yrd. individual medley. The other strong competitors this year were seniors Tom Bollinger and Brad Blevins, junior freestyler Tom Penn, and freshmen butterflyer, Brett Hoerdemann.

The girls' tennis team compiled a 9-5 overall record for dual matches in 1984. They also finished third in the conference and the standings were decided by a conference tournament.

Jackie Uhll and Stacy McQuellon advanced to State by winning second in doubles at the Galesburg Sectionals. Michelle Dentino and Karen Fulton upset the fourth seeded team and also advanced to State. Our Junior Varsity also enjoyed a successful season. Cindy Schmitt and Marie LaHood took third place in doubles at the Bloomington Junior Varsity Tournament.

We will miss our graduating Senior Patty Gibson. Patty's points at Conference were vital to our third place finish. Good Luck, Patty, may your years ahead bring much happiness and success.

This year's team placed seventh in the Mid-State Ten Conference. Scott Settelmyer won fourth place in singles. In spite of being such a young team, the boys proved themselves to be a team to be reckoned with next year. Junior, Scott Settelmyer, also won the team's Most Valuable Player Award.

He finished first at the Morton Invitational, fourth at Conference, third at Sectionals, and defeated three opponents who had defeated him last year. Brian Flaherty, if the past season is any indication, will be an up-and-coming player, placing third in his division at Morton.

The 1985 Spalding track team made another step up the ladder to respectability through the hard work and dedication of all the team members and coaches. Senior captain, Steve Willard, and junior captains, Jerry Gray and Steve Maley, led the team in its spirited season. Highlights included annihilating Bergan 96-45 in a MS-10 dual meet and shutting them out in the Conference Meet. Sophomore, Andy Norueil, set a sophomore record in the 1600 meter run with a time of 4:35.9. Seniors were Tim Buttler (weights), Jeff Lawless (pole vault), Steve Otten (everything), and Steve Willard (distance). The Irish return a solid nucleus of talent next year in juniors, Mike Buehler, Tim Frank, Jerry Gray, Steve Maley, and Mike Tucker, and sophomores, Jeff Carlson, Andy Norueil, and Chris Patterson. Head Coach, Mr. Larson (sprinters), Coach Bradle (D-men), and Coach Burke (weights) were instrumental in the team's pursuit of excellence.

The Bergan/Spalding hockey team, gaining deserved reknown for good seasons since its formation, finished the past season with records of 7-2-1 (varsity) and 7-7-0 (junior varsity). Both players from Bergan and Spalding contributed consistently to the team's performances. From Spalding, Brian Flaherty had two shutouts, averaging 2.9 goals allowed. Terry Flaherty saw much playing time due to his experience. He was an important penalty killer for the team. Joe Lyons was nicknamed Mr. Aggressiveness for his constant hustle. Dan Lyons' quickness helped the team immensely. Freshman, Alex Kilgo, had a superb year and will be a real playmaker on future teams. For the JV team, Chris Goeheusen, goalie, had a shutout against Richwoods. Brian Flaherty played center and Terry Flaherty, defense. Dave Lawless has his best season yet, scoring six goals. Coach Staats' devotion and interest in the Bergan/Spalding team was a big part of the team's season.

Memories

THE SPIRIT OF THE IRISH LIVES ON

Well, it passed again — that annual ritual we fondly call Homecoming Week. Yes, "once-a-year" Spalding tradition of wearing clothes that have been hiding in the back of Mom's closet for the past twenty years and doing your very best to give Mrs. Cychol a cramp in her referral writing hand. It is a week in which every teacher gives tests to make Homecoming memorable. (You do remember all the tests you flunked, don't you?)

Of course, there's also hall decorations and the variety show. Pitting class against class, these events transform the dull Academy hallways and Spalding gym into celebrations of the event.

"Beautiful" arcades of crepe paper, poster paints and glitter appear miraculously overnight, just so the creation can be enthusiastically demolished between homeroom and first hour. Uh well, it's all in the spirit of things.

The variety show, a culmination of much hard work and effort, is always a great time. Combining song, dance, and a small skit, students try to capture what Homecoming means. It is always an interesting and rewarding experience.

During the pomp of the parade to the stadium, it always seems like at least one student finds his way to the pavement over which their truck is traveling. I guess it's just their painful contribution to the event.

Now that week has slipped away for another year, when "we'll do it all again."

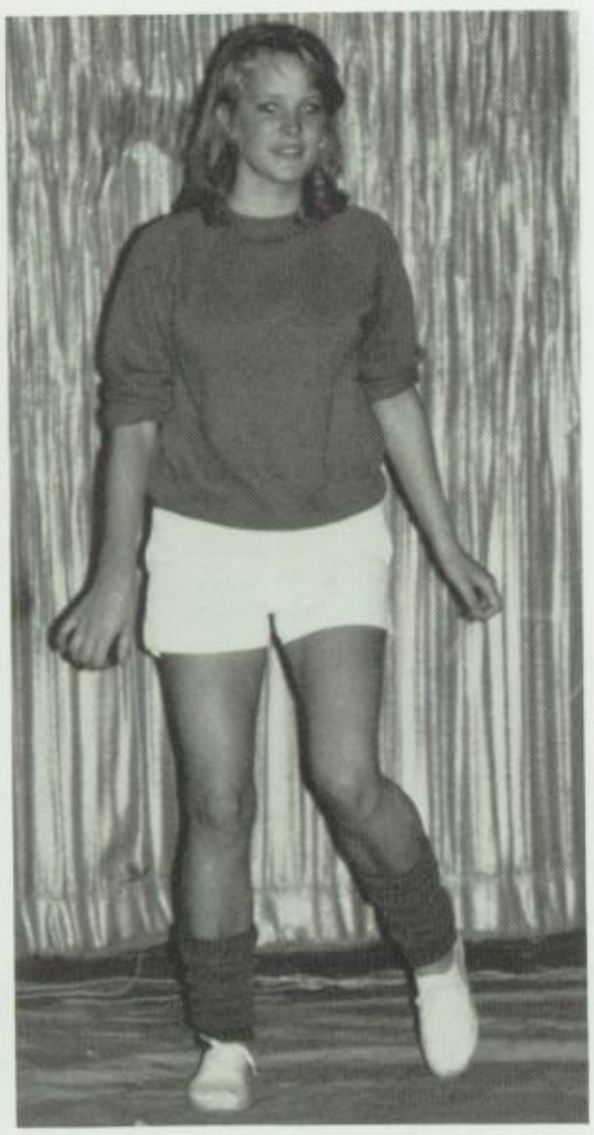
The Variety Show this year was a great success. Since there was a one night only performance, a large, enthusiastic crowd of both students and parents were on hand.

The sophomore class based their comedy on the popular "old-time" family show, "Leave It to Beaver."



The junior skit was based on the exploits of two teenage boys in Hollywood. They had read about tryouts for the vote of Irish head football coach Jerry McMahon. The two met many movie stars while they tries to find out about Coach McMahon.

The seniors also featured "Leave It to Beaver" in their comedy sketch. To add some excitement to the evening, they provided the audience with their own revision of MTV's Van Halen and Prince videos. A Huggies commercial featuring several over (under) grown senior "babies" created uproarious laughter from the audience.

Each class performed a dance and the seniors and juniors also included original episodes of Family Feud and the Dating Game.

The First place winners were: Seniors: dance and miscellaneous, Juniors: comedy sketch.

HOMECOMING PARADE, GAME,

The Spalding Irish met the Woodruff Warriors on September 21 in the 1984 Homecoming game at Peoria Stadium. All week long the excitement had been building, culminating in a 20-6 victory making it seven straight Homecoming victories for the Irish. The win took place in front of a spirited crowd of Irish fans just as intense as the team itself. The pep rally held for the game said it all. Fr. Wolfe and Fr. Seibert solemnly led a 'funeral procession' in which a casket containing the Woodruff Warrior was carried, symbolizing a Spalding romp. An "incensing' of the "grave" brought deafening cheers and laughter from the student body. The gravestone appropriately read "R.I.P. Warriors."

The scoring began in the second quarter with a pass from Steve Maley to Tony Ardis. Again in the third quarter Ardis was in action. After intercepting a pass, he later threw to Ben Shea for a touchdown. The extra point made the score 14-0. Spalding scored another six points when Bill Kelly ran for a 66 yard touchdown. The final score was 20-6. Adding to the celebration was the crowning of the queen at halftime. Nothing could spoil this festive homecoming.

HOLLYWOOD NIGHTS

Spalding's Homecoming Night 1984 was Saturday, September 22. The dance, one of the "social events of the season" is always an experience that will linger in a high schooler's memory.

The theme of this year's Homecoming was "Hollywood Nights". Couples danced to the music of "Perigree." Homecoming Dance 1984 — one of the bigger marks on the graffiti wall for 1984-85.

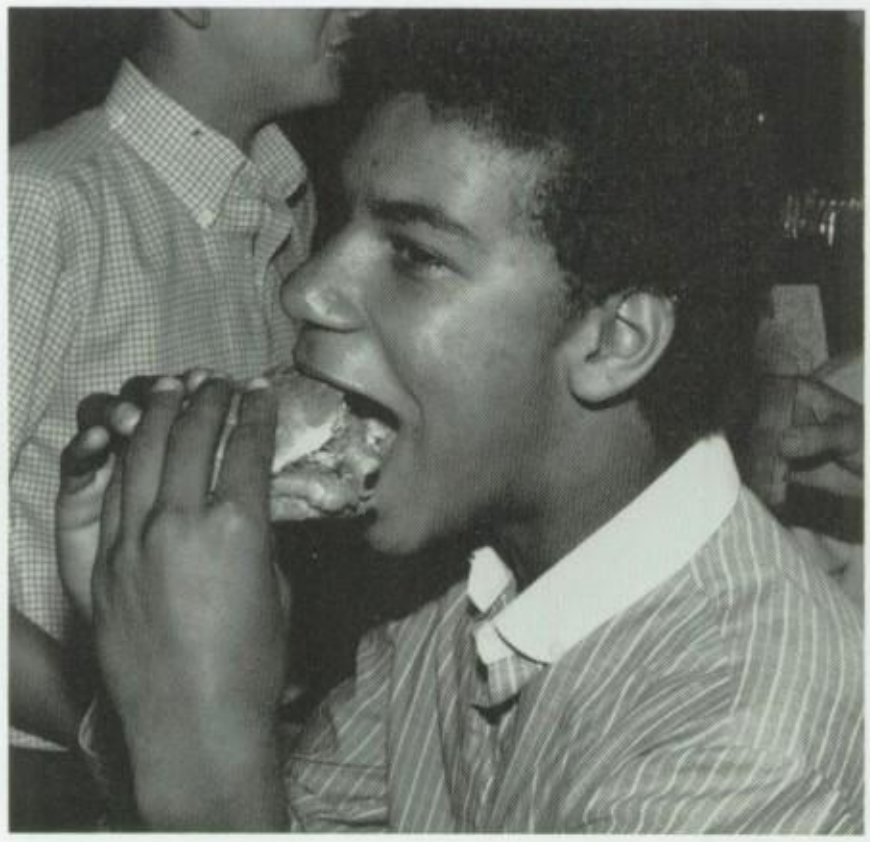
JUNIORS CELEBRATE



As is traditional at Spalding, the Junior class celebrated its "coming out" as upperclassmen this year on Ring Day '84. The special day was September 12 and, as in the past, was enjoyable and unforgettable.

A mass was offered at the Cathedral, asking God to be with the class members as they wear their ring in school and in the community to remind them of their ties to Spalding and its standards. As part of the liturgy, the class received its rings after having them blessed. The day's theme was "Our Memories of Today Will Shape Our Dreams of Tomorrow".

Following the liturgical celebration the class met at Confetti's for a lunch and party. Dancing and music videos were very popular on this joyous day.

The pride felt by Juniors upon putting their ring on their finger is terrific. The result of this pride, symbolized in the class ring, in the form of responsible leadership and example will be with the class through graduation and beyond.

ANY NUMBER CAN DIE

Under the supervision of Miss Boehm, as producer, director, and prop and construction crew chief, the fall play, Any Number Can Die, was presented in two performances on November 16 and 17. The action of the play took place in the living room of Raven's Head, an old mansion on a deserted island off the coast of North Carolina. The plot centered around the reading of a will and the ensuing conflicts culminating in a traditional "whodunit" series of murders. The set was full of trap doors and false walls making for a very exciting visual effect. A combined construction and props crew of 25 was responsible for the set. Kathleen Schelp and Pam Curtis were assistant directors. Other crew members were Matt Alaksiewicz, Jeff Radke, Irene Shea, Valerie Kistner.

THE BOYFRIEND

The 1985 AOL/SI spring musical, The Boyfriend, was performed March 22, 23, and 24. Miss Boehm was staging director and set designer, and Mrs. Frederickson was music director. First piano accompaniest was Mrs. Jorgensen with Mrs. Cecile Langford and Mrs. Charlene Glore assisting in other musical areas. Set in the 1920's, the play had all the elements of a rousing musical: comedy, full production song and dance routines, romance, and lightheartedness. The plot involved several lovers in France around carnival time. A case of mistaken identity added comedy as well as dramatic flair to the play. The main loving couples were Polly Browne (Michelle Boos), a rich girl, and Tony Brockhurst (Stann Weibler), a messenger boy and also, Bobby VanHusen (Chad Langford), an American, and Maisie Merriweather (Laura Forcum), known to play hard to get. In the end everyone was happy, as musicals go, and all the marriage proposals from earlier in the play answered with a yes.

The Student Senate had another successful basket drive this year. For this year, a permanent goal of 300 was set to be achieved every year. For the Christmas of 1984, the school reached a record of 309 baskets.

Each basket consists of a box of canned goods ranging from fruits, vegetables, and soups of boxed goods and dried foods. Also included is a loaf of bread, a ham, and a small treat such as candy. These goods are obtained through long, hard hours of collecting by the Student Senate and student body. Competitions between homerooms are held to see which can bring in the most cans. Money donations are also accepted to help defray the cost of the hams.

The Christmas baskets are donated to grateful, needy families around the Peoria area.

THOUSANDS CELEBRATE SPECIAL MASS

Celebrating Catholic education is easily done by AOL/SI. At the Civic Center on February 5th, we joined students from area Catholic schools to give thanks to the Lord for the many gifts we have received. Due to the sacrifice of teachers, parents, and the Catholic community, we have much to be proud of as a Catholic school.

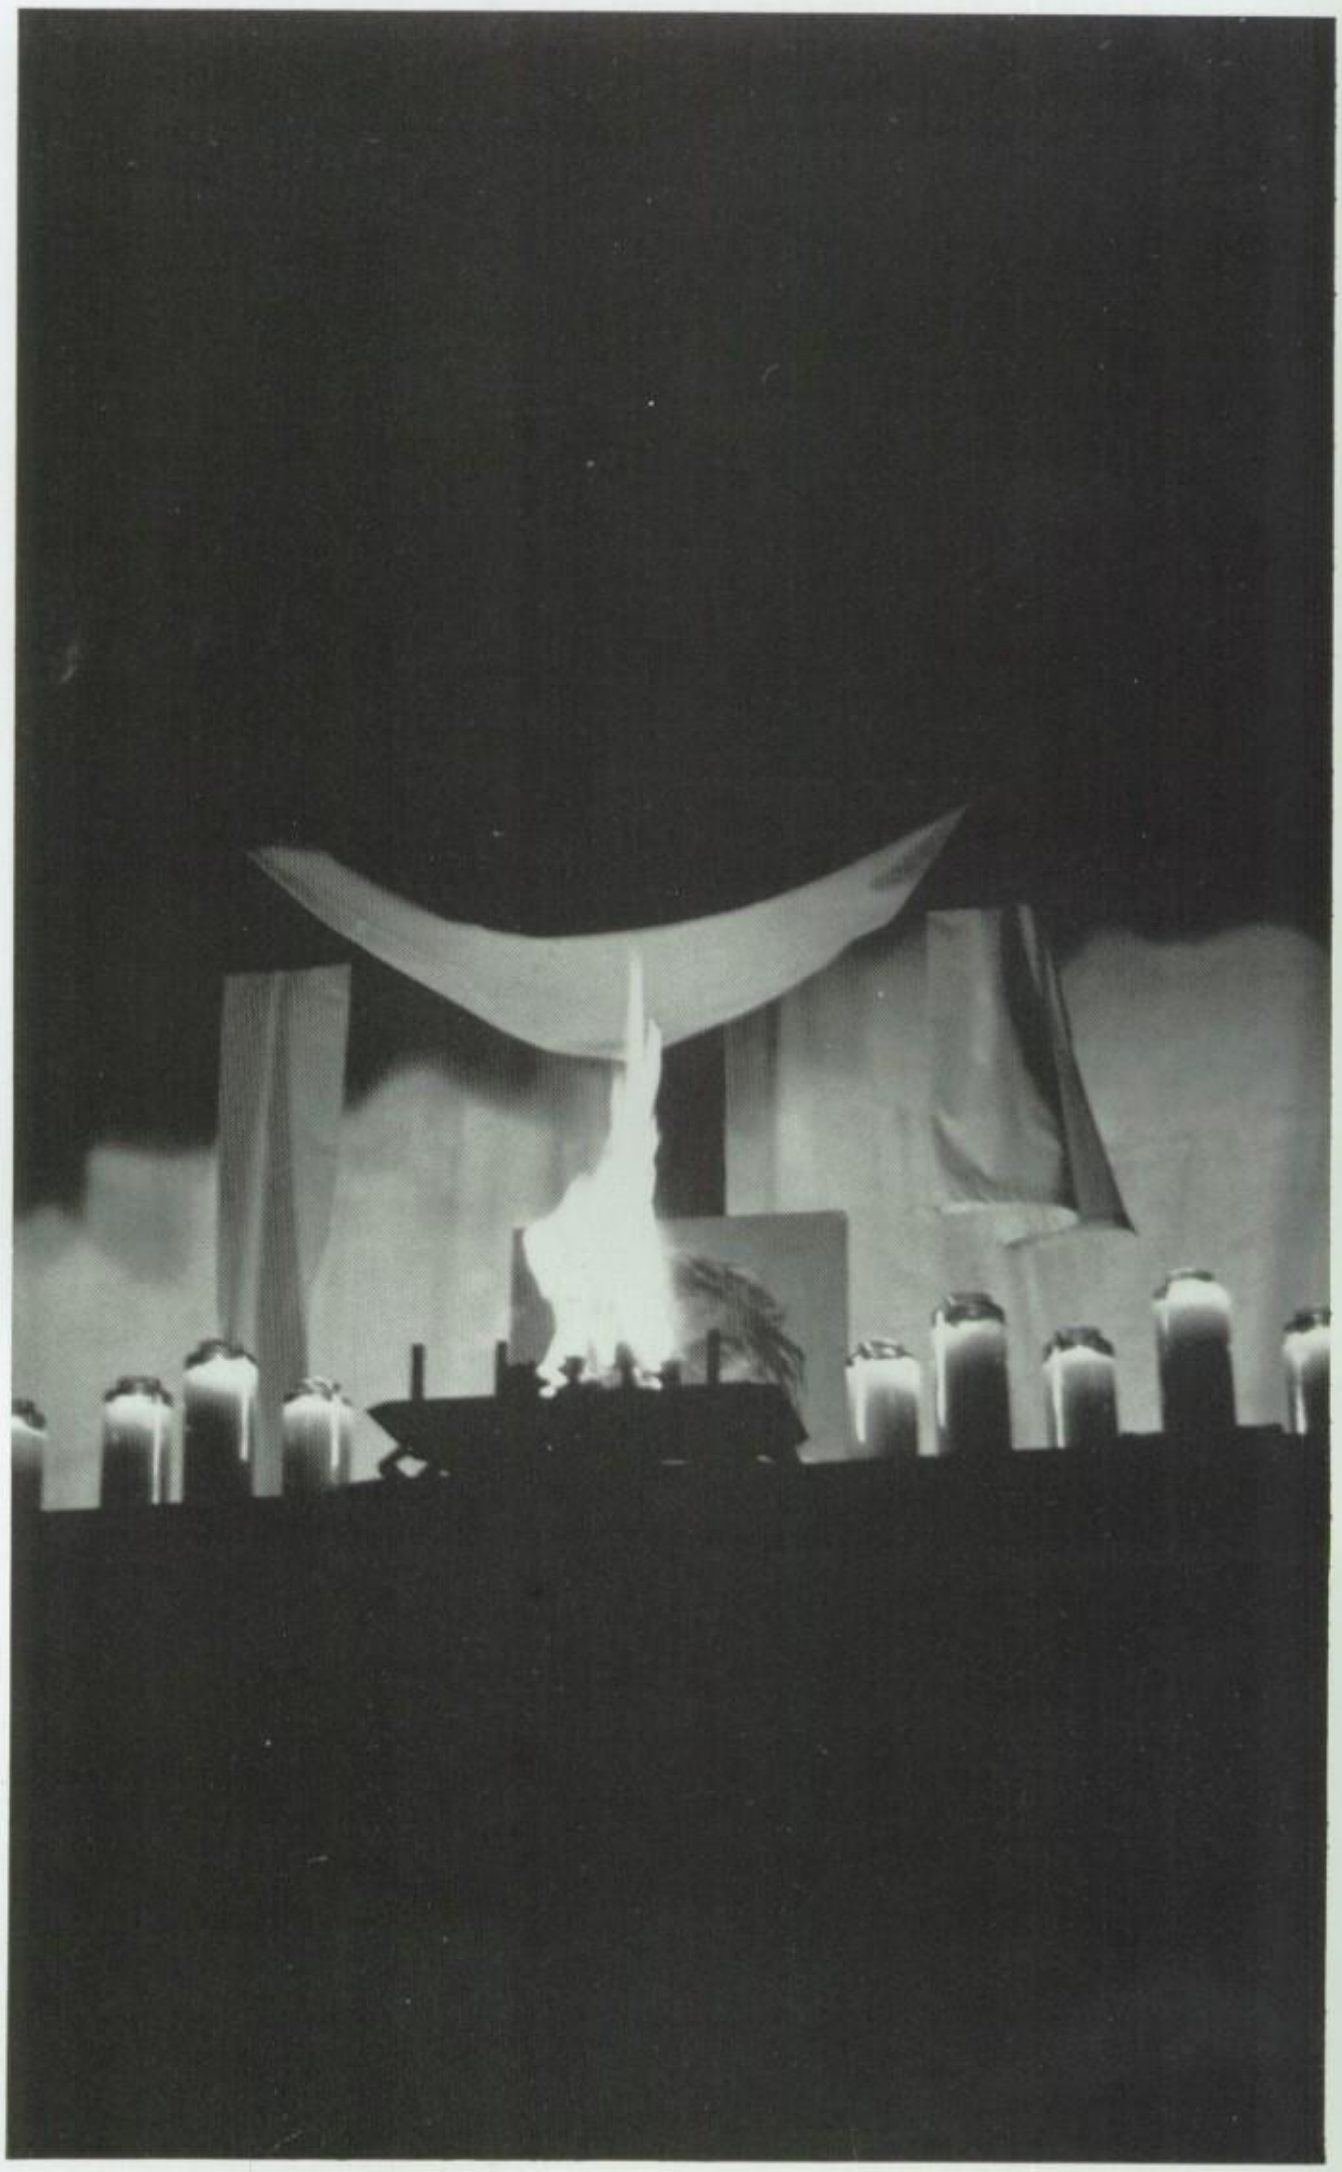
Again this year, Spalding was fortunate to have Father Kenneth Roberts, author of Playboy to Priest and world known evangelizer, on campus for the school's retreat. For sophomores and freshmen, the retreat was held on January 18 and 23. The junior/senior retreat took place on January 24, the last day of the retreat being cancelled due to bad weather. The theme for both retreats was "Taking the Time".

During the course of the retreat, Father Roberts spoke inspiringly on many topics, some old and some new, including many subjects from a student question and answer box, vocations, reconciliation, holiness vs. goodness, and of course time and its relation to our faith. On the latter Father commented that all of time is God's creation to be used to glorify Him. We never know when our time may be cut short. Therefore, students were urged, one must be holy, not just good. To be holy, he instructed, quoting Mother Teresa, is to listen to God and his church, not the world. An analogy was drawn between that and a radio. In order to hear God, we must not only turn God on, but tune him in clearly, just as we do a radio to hear music.

In response to the day's reflection, students participated in a reconciliation service. General absolution was given to students who came forward with a list of their sins to throw into a fire. During the special service ten candles were lit by Father Roberts symbolizing the 10 commandments.

Also while in Peoria Father Roberts taped four television shows entitled "Time for Teens" dealing with sex, death, and other moral questions of teens. Spalding students were used in the tapings.



The student body's sins (written on paper) go up in flame. The candles surrounding the conflagration represent the 10 commandments.

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

"Don't You Forget About Me", the junior-senior prom was held at the Ramada Inn downtown. The theme was taken from the popular song by The Simple Minds. The Gregg Clemens Band provided excellent dance music that got everybody moving, even some chaperones. The band leader also performed a music-mime act at the end of the dance. Couples went to dinner at restaurants such as Carnegies in the Pére Marquette and Jumors. Others "wined and dined" at a date's house. Of course, Prom will never be forgotten.

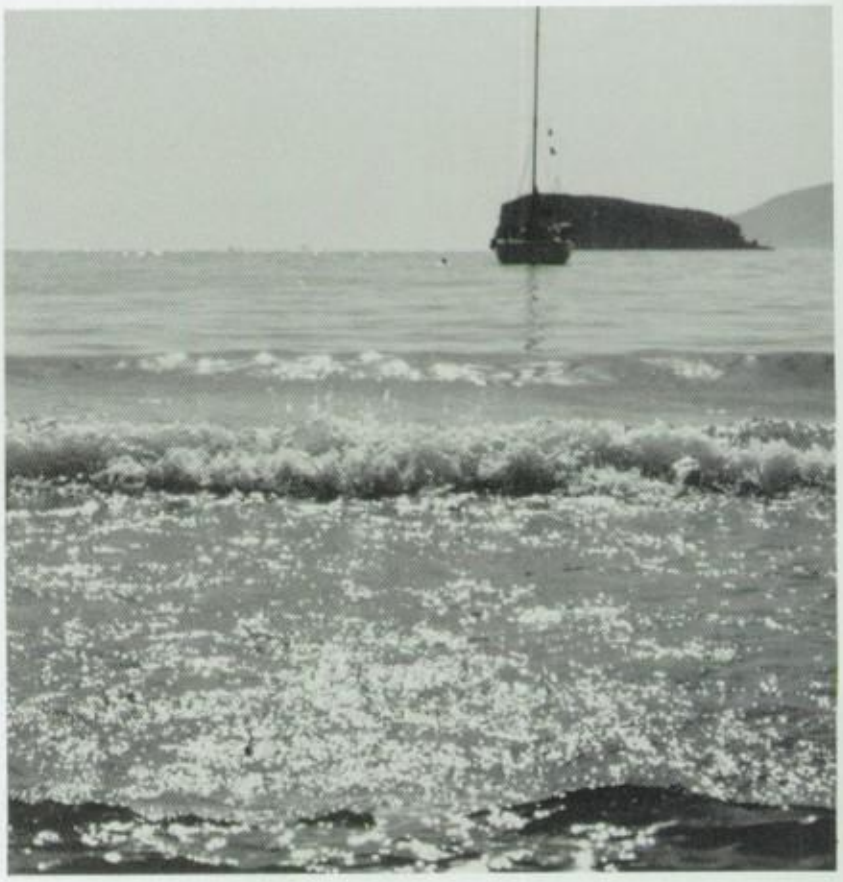
STUDENTS TRAVEL INTO HISTORY

(top) A sign welcomes visitors to the island of Rhodes. (right) A fishing boat tranquilly sits off the coast of Greece in the sparkling Aegean Sea. (left) Mrs. Krause, our resident Shakespearean player, on stage, as always, with her mother in the Greek amphitheatre.



Before we left on April 6, for our ten day trip, a Greek terrorist group vowed not to let any plane leave New York for Athens. Apparently nothing happened, because the ten hour flight reached its destination. Based at the Ionis Hotel in Athens, we were able to see structures built before Christ's birth including the famed Acropolis, the highest point of the city, and the Parthenon, the temple dedicated to the Athene Virgin, on July 28, 447 B.C. We also toured The huge National Museum of Athens. Later, it was time to get into the streets of Athens, Greece. All the storekeepers loved Americans. The came out on the street and invited people to come into their shop as if it was their home. Other Greeks are more likely to knock Americans over rather than say excuse me. The taxi drivers can be irritating. The Oceanos Pireius was our cruise ship. We went island hopping until we landed at Turkey. Greece is an experience one can only find by boarding a time machine to the past.

JUNIORS SEE D.C. — CLOSE UP

Seven juniors visited Washington, D.C. the week of April 28, sponsored by Close Up. The trip is a unique, fun filled, learning experience that introduces students to senators, representatives, journalists, and lobbyists in an attempt to familiarize high schoolers with their national government. Seminars were attended that dealt with the three branches of government and decisions they make, especially current events so students can form a decision about the topic after witnessing the discussion first hand. Recreation, sightseeing, and meeting interesting people from other parts of the nation were all part of the trip. Students from Maine, North Carolina, Alaska, and Hawaii attended the program the same week Spalding did. The Spalding group dined at many restaurants in the city and took in a production of Godspell at the Ford's Theatre. The Close Up program for each day kept everyone busy moving from event to event. Close Up participants from Spalding were Melinda Aranas, Tom Gorman, Darin LaHood, Dave Heinzman, Mike Filzen, Jim Klise, and Tom Penn. Miss O'Flaherty chaperoned the trip once again this year.

RAISING THE SPIRIT

The 1984-85 Varsity and Spirit Squad cheerleaders attended camp at Western Illinois University this summer. They received 3 second place ribbons, 1 first place on their home cheers, and special honors on their spirit and enthusiasm. The girls placed second over-all out of 32 other squads from various areas. Top 10 individual awards were awarded to Monica Joseph, Susie Zarley, Joni Johnson, and Joanne Bousky.

This year's pom pon squad was one of fine talent. The girls attended the Universal Dance Camp at Marquette University in the summer. Awards that were obtained for their efforts were a third in hometown routine competition, outstanding trophy and spirit stick, plus over 50 individual blue ribbons. Back at Spalding, the addition of their routines to home football and basketball games and pep rallys is appreciated. The squad marched in the Santa Claus and St. Patrick's Day parades. There are eighteen pom pon girls: ten juniors and eight seniors. Graduating seniors are Gina Anthony, Kelly Chance, Heidi Dunniway, Joline Gorman, Janice Hahn, Nancy Knight, Anne McHugh, and Barb Maushard. Miss Boehm acts as the squad's moderator and coach. Captains are Anne McHugh and Janice Hahn.

TUMBLERS TURN HEADS

The AOL-SI tumblers reappeared on the scene this year. The team was a big part of the half time entertainment at several home basketball games. They performed at five games to the tune of "Lucky Star", "Wake Me Up Before You Go-Go", "I'm So Excited", "Old Time Rock 'n' Roll", and for Senior Night, "On The Dark Side". Representing Spalding in the St. Patrick's Day Parade was another activity of the team. The tumblers, drawing from each class, put four days of hard work into every crowd pleasing routine. The team will miss the expertise and leadership of senior, Chris Gamache.

TEAM OUTSMARTS OPPONENTS

In 1984-85, the Spalding Scholastic Team assumed a respected position in the Central Illinois area because of its excellent record and accomplishments this year. The team exhibited a fine assortment of knowledge among its members: captain, Chris Eisfelder, co-captain, Joe Kenny, Erika Dowell, Steve Wolford, and Eric Staats. Five trophies were presented to Sr. Marcia on Awards Day. They were a first place from the St. Bede Round Robin, a consolation trophy from St. Bede, second of 32 team at Streator Rotary Bowl, second place from Illini Bluffs, and a first place at Metamora. Mrs. Helen Krause was the team's moderator, coach, and Greek mentor. A special thanks to Mrs. Joanne Dowell for her record keeping, driving, and substitute coaching.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society experienced another successful year in 1984-85. The society, made up of seniors for the majority of the year, helped tutor students who required aid. The year culminated with the induction of new members on March 10, 1985. The ceremony included a mass, in which old members of the NHS participated. It was celebrated by Fr. Beebe in the Academy theatre, and parents, family, and friends of the inductees were invited. During the mass, new members were officially inducted and old members recognized for their continued efforts. A special candle lighting ceremony represented the basis of selection: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Members were chosen by the faculty and administration. Mrs. Jorgensen was the society's moderator. Following the mass and ceremony, a reception was held in the Spalding cafeteria.

The Spalding Community Service Program had another complimentary year in 1984-85. All three sociology classes went "into the field" every Tuesday and Thursday for class. Agencies and schools of all kinds benefitted from the help of Spalding seniors. Some of these were the Crisis Nursery, crippled and autistic children programs, parochial and grade schools, hospitals, and rest homes. The seniors received many good reports from the community for their volunteer work. Miss O'Flaherty was the program's coordinator again this year and was instrumental in its success. Students were rightfully proud of their experiences.

SPEC — A SERVICE OF LOVE

Special People Enounter Christ is a program for the mentally and physically handicapped who wish to learn about Jesus. Many students from Spalding helped instruct these members of our community. These caring students shared their time and effort with these special people in order to introduce them to true Christianity. Activities included class projects, sing-a-longs, occasional masses, and group parties. One group met at St. Mark's on Monday nights while the other met at St. Vincent de Paul's on Tuesday nights.

MUSIC GROUPS ENTERTAIN

inging Irish is dedicated to vocal talents who's high note is enthusiasm and entertainment. This year the group had the honor of performing for numerous Christmas parties for members of the Peoria Country Club, W.M.B.D. Santa Parade, umers, the Caterpillar Time Keepers Club, nd at Holy Family Heritage Days and special masses at Spalding. Speaking of music, Spalding's fastest growing club is the nstrumental Ensemble. This group has grown from a small bugle and drum corp o a BAND COMBO! Hats off to the new, riumphant sound this band gives Spalding. Two members, Val Kistner and Gina aluska, earned first place in the Illinois tate Music Contest this year along with Chad Langford. Mixed Chorus and Freshman Chrous should be praised for their eamwork and long hours of practice. The roup performed at the Christmas Concert, mass, and graduation. Spalding was ery proud of them at the graduation which sounded terrific. Seniors to be congratulated on their years of service and eadership are Aaron Warr, Lisa Weitzel, Molly Smith, Rick Gibson, and Robin Barszewski.

"Graffiti", the theme of the 1984-85 Summa was an accurate title for the yearbook. The staff, taking moments from the year, put them in one book for all to remember, like a passerby and a wall of graffiti. This year's staff, editor, Angie Hild, coeditor, Erika Dowell, copy editor, Eric Staats, and layout staff, Maureen Bridge, Dave McGrew, Nicole Orr, Michele Staats, Troy Hattermann, Mike Glastetter, Janet McGrew, Kim Bishop, Tiffany Orr, Ingrid Dowell and Jenni Morrison.

A special thanks to typists Cece Ciabattoni and Debbie Fredell.

Mrs. Osborne was the advisor for the book, always there as cheerleaders during the biggest challenges.

"NEWS" LOOK FOR MSJ

Over the summer of 1984, Madison Street Journal coeditors, Heather Hartwig and Eric Staats, attended journalism camp and returned to AOL/SI with many new ideas for the paper. This year, an editorial page, cartoons, and extended sports coverage was added to the layout. Although setbacks such as cut budgets and a small reporting staff of regulars, the MSJ was a success. Staff members for 1984-85 were co-editors Eric Staats and Heather Hartwig, seniors, Matt Alaksiewicz, Joe Buehler, and Paul Vargas. Other important staffers were Laura Bouchard, Tina Thomas, Kim Bishop, Tiffany Orr, Teresa Serangeli, Erika Dowell, Ingrid Dowell, Tom Gorman, cartoonist, Marty Miller, Kris Whitby, Barb Klein, Jodi Becker, Melinda Newsom, Tanya Moredock, Mary Thomas, Kristin Glore, Debbie Horst. Thanks to our circulation staff and benefactors of all nine issues published in 1984-85.

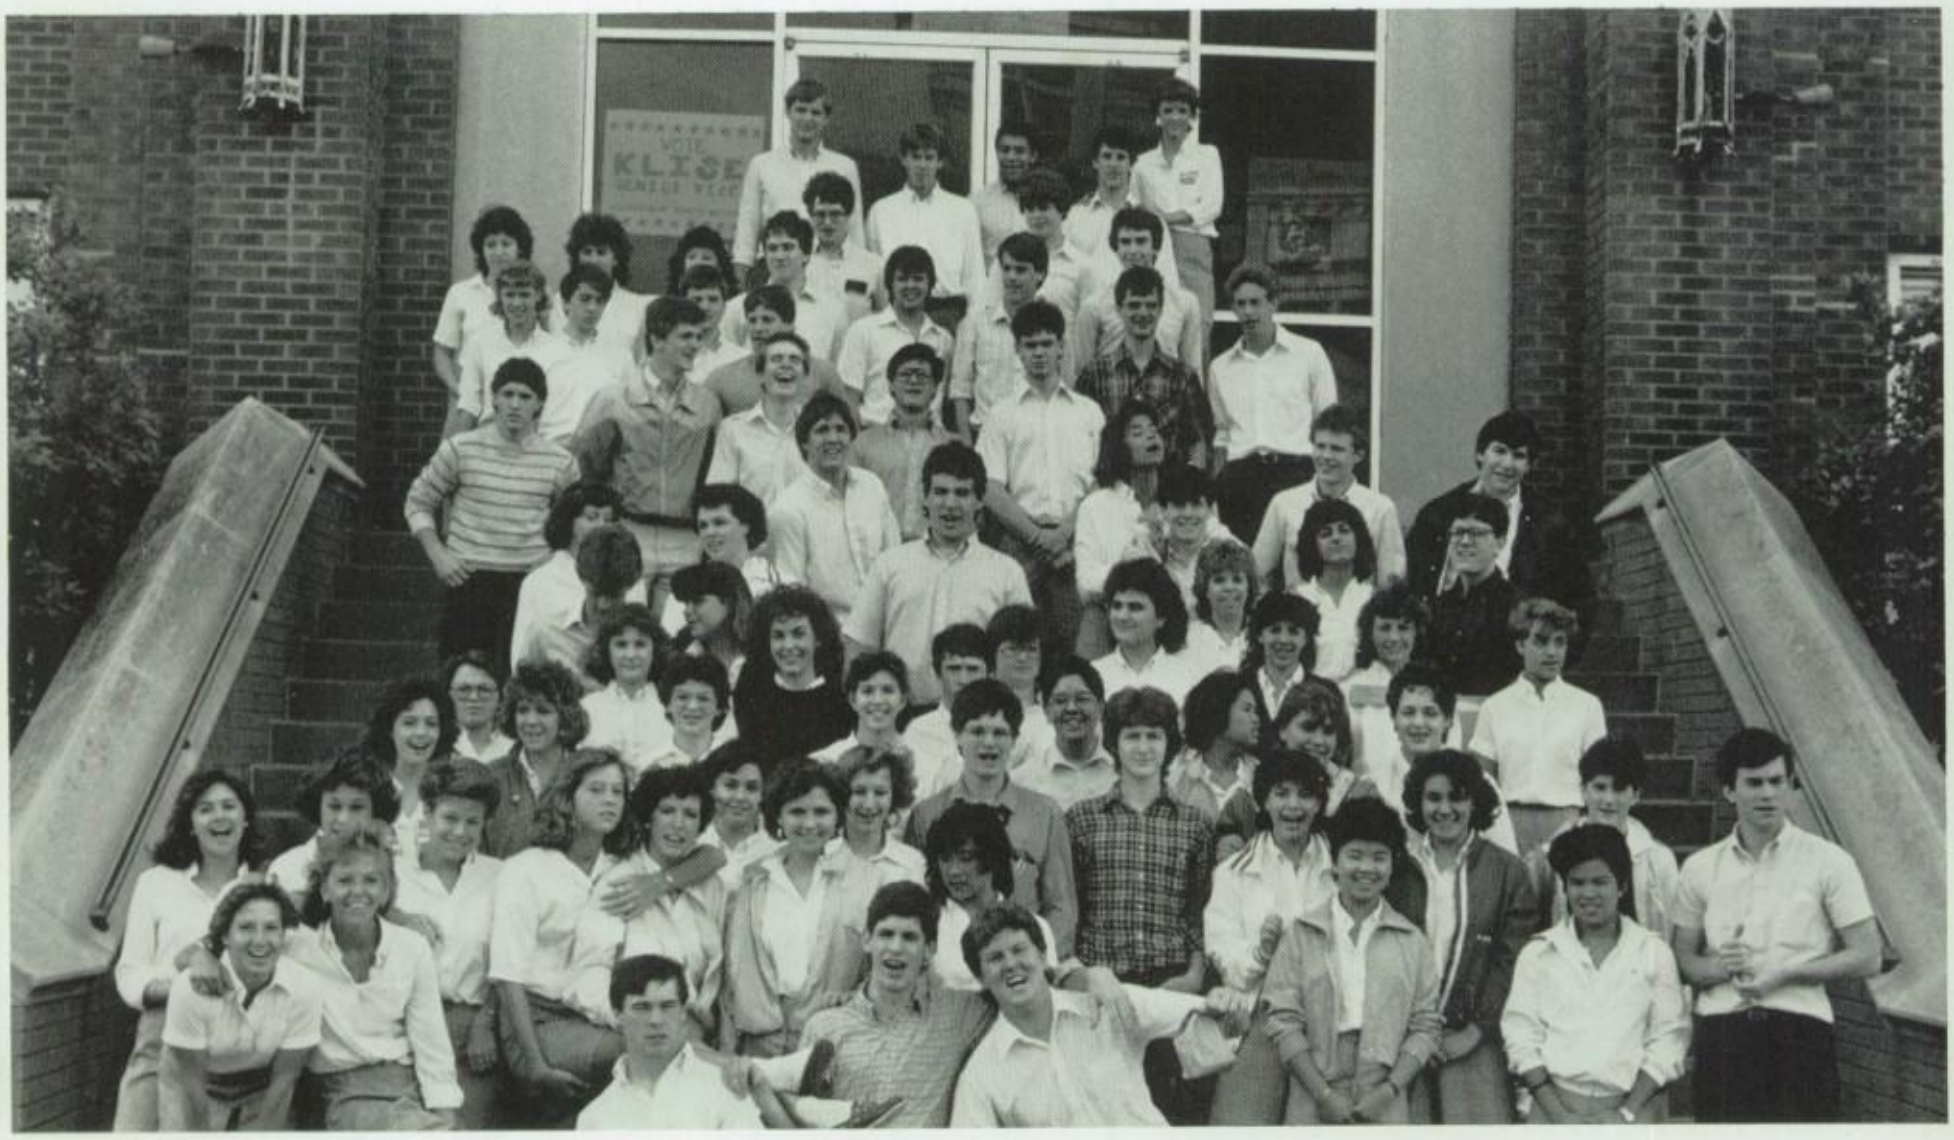
KEY CLUB



Key Club experienced another outstanding year under the steady leadership of Mrs. Taylor, the faculty advisor. Key Club is an organization that is dedicated to service, and the 1984-85 members of the club continued the long tradition of community service. The theme for the year was "Manhours for Mankind" and the club, through a dynamic effort, was able to amass over 1,000 manhours of community service. The club won a second place award at the Illinois-Eastern Iowa District Key Club Convention for volunteering the most manhours. The club also received three other honors: Treasurer's Award, Secretary's Award, and a District Project Award. The club participated in the Blood Drives, the school carnival, and sold doughnuts before school, among other projects. With a large number of freshmen and sophomores in the club, it looks like the Key Club will be strong for years to come.

KIDS ON THE BLOCK

m dedicated in developing sensitivity for pecial" people. It is done after the Japanese le, Ban Raku, where you see the puppeteers the same time you see the puppets. Puppets k about their differences which include tos of cerebral palsy, spina bifida, prothesis, ild abuse, leukemia, blindness, hearing imired, being retarded, etc. The program is onsored by the American Red Cross and Eas-Seals. Advisor for the program is Clara E. cCraith, Spalding's guidance counselor.

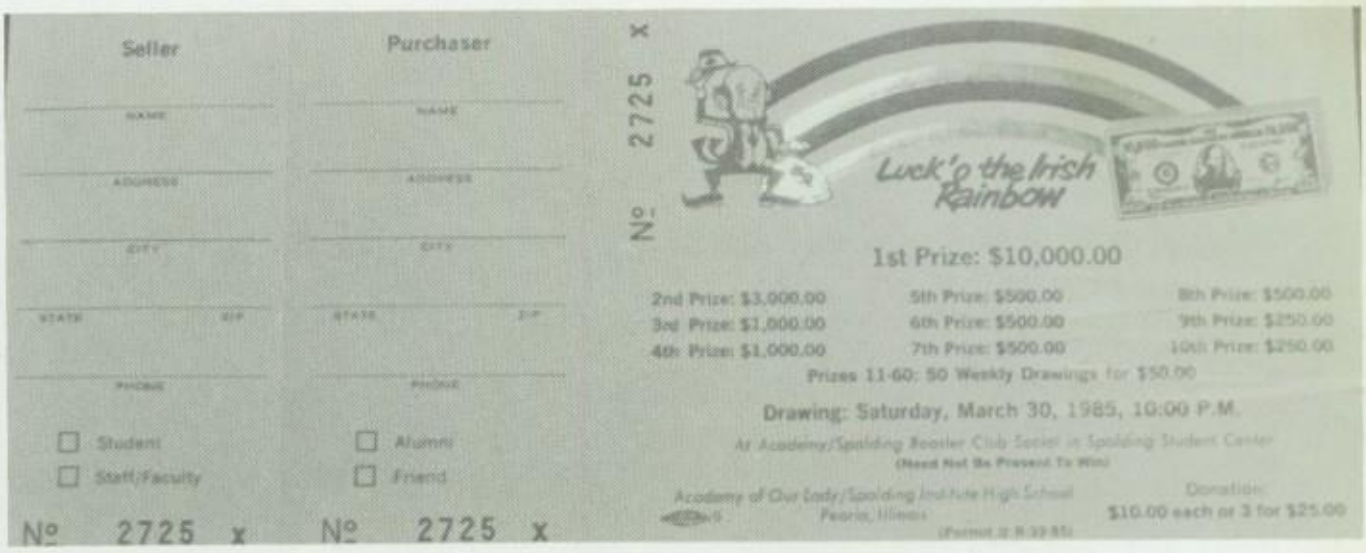
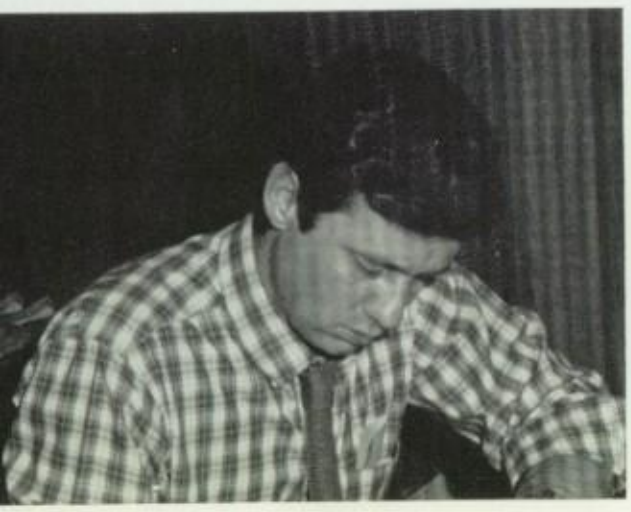
RAINBOW RAFFLE NETS PROFIT





(top left) Boxes sit waiting to be sent to homerooms to receive money on collection day. (top right) The ticket no alum forgets and the key to Development Office hard work. (bottom) Mr. Donahue, raffle organizer, records collections from the students.

The Academy/Spalding student body, parents, staff, Boosters, and over 9000 generous donors contributed to another successful Luck O' the Irish Rainvow project in 1985. The net gain, after extensive student incentives, is comparable to last year. Kim Bishop was the top seller in the school. Top sellers by classes were freshman, Earl Stoltz, sophomore, Arlene Harvey, junior, Becky Schmitt, and senior, Sue Conway. Mrs. Schefelbein's sophomore homeroom was highest selling homeroom in the school. The broadened market the raffle reached this year increased the challenge to everyone involved. However, this challenge was met again in 1985.

Miles will grow between us,
How much I'll really miss you,
Never will I forget the fun we shared.

We have argued, laughed, cried and hugged,
I will never forget you my friend,
For you are someone very special to me,
Thanks for being my friend.

We, the Summa staff, would like to dedicate the 1985 Summa to the memory of our dear friend, Beth Jeanette Hopwood. Beth was called by God on July 9, 1983 in a tragic accident. We all feel the loss the Class of 1985 suffered when we lost Beth. We have all missed Beth's friendly smile, personality, and laugh. At Spalding, she was involved with the cheerleading and tumbling squads. We will always love Beth and will never forget her.

We were on two separate roads!
Finally joining into one!
We helped each other with troubles and laughed with the good times!
The road was long, but always something new was happening and the time went so fast.
Now the roads are separating again!
It's time to go our own way.
to meet new challenges!
But like all roads, we will meet again!
— written by Beth Hopwood

Beebe, con-celebrate for the mass with representatives from graduates' parishes, bring up the rear of the procession of the Class of '85. (center righ) Chris Maher hams it up while Lisa Shamon, Laura Shoff and John Moffitt anxiously await their entry into the cathedral. (bottom) Nearing the end of the line, these members of the Class of '85 share some memories as they greet the cameras.

BEGIN OUR LAST DAY TOGETHER

"The rung of a ladder was never meant to rest upon, but only to hold a man's foot long enough to enable him to put the other one higher." This was the theme of the moving 1985 Baccalaureate mass, held at 10:30 a.m. graduation day. Prime Rib was the main dish. Mrs. Youngman gave the blessing before the meal, and Mr. Laird gave a memorable invocation afterwards — his last words, so to speak, to the Class of '85. One event was not left in the class' graduation day.

For about 220 seniors, May 15, 1985, was the end of four years at Academy/Spalding and the beginning of a new phase of life. The class arrived at school at seven o'clock to get dressed for the ceremony at eight o'clock. The commencement began with the traditional procession of the class into the Spalding gym, followed by an address by Senator Prescott Bloom who urged the seniors that there is a time for everything. The challenge is to determine when those times are and to act accordingly. A paraliturgy and songs by a Spalding chorus gave the commencement a beautiful Spalding spirit. The graduates were rousingly presented the diplomas in the bishop's absence. Before the class left the auditorium, the teachers, family, and friends of the graduates in the crowd stretched out their hands to give a blessing to the class. As the class' final salute to Spalding, the guys and girls switched purple and white mortarboards as they marched out in pairs. The Class of 1985, as Fr. Beebe said, "is truly a class with class" and will always be remembered as such.

The SUMMA staff, following this year's theme, "Graffiti", has included this page. The information may seem useless now, but in the future it may serve as a remembrance of your glory days in 1984-85. Everyone's view of a year is different. Hopefully, these lists may have some common ground with the year as you experienced it.
